

Terms and Conditions

By accepting terms and conditions, you agree to Prosody Performance Arts Management using your information such as name, email, and phone number to conduct business such as invoicing and customer service. You also agree to this information being used for the functionality of the app Prosody Backstage and Prosody Backstage Portal. This includes but is not limited to account creation, profile creation, and communication. Prosody Performance Arts Management will not sell or share your information with third parties.